November 10, 2025: On Methods of Protest and Outreach

Donald and Team of Criminals:

Do you see me posting graffiti on your 'Lie Social' accounts?
Do you see me gathering money to go shout bullhorns into the White House?
Do you see me bombarding your emails every day with my opinions?

No. I have reached out to all of my representatives.
I have legally and lawfully contacted law enforcement for their assistance.

I have resorted to posting my opinions publicly on a webpage archive for some possible accountability in the future.

What the fuck happened to your moral compass that tells you to spy on my computer and home and drive a parade of criminal co-conspirators past my house all day and night?

Is that your idea of proving how powerful you are?

Technically, I have the 'power' to go and plaster my story all across every posting that you put up on your lying networks.

Technically, I have the 'power' to write a letter to my representatives every day demanding that they hold you accountable for your criminal behavior.

But, that power does nothing more than bother people and make them hate me.
Just the same as your power to invade my home with your stream of vehicles.

Donald Trump: I truly hate you for what you have done.

Your sense of over-extension into my life is so far beyond the realm of acceptable behavior that I have no other option than to completely denounce you as a person, much less as our political representative.

You are a lousy piece of shit, old man.

Your power means nothing once you use it to prove that your are a worthless old fool!

The only power that we don't have as Americans is the power to stop you from destroying your own reputation in our eyes.

And for that, please continue! We are all witnessing the collapse of an old, fake, liar.

Please - continue advancing your own demise.

Go, go, go, Donald Chump. Lose yourself in the moment of becoming the biggest fucking idiot that we have ever witnessed in American history. I am pretty sure that you have already made the point, but don't let that stop you from continuing to your maximum possible level of stupidity!

(Here comes another plot point on the matrix of stupidity - Donald has driven himself off the charts!)
